About Teleena

Teleena is a young and innovative company in mobile telecommunications. We operate our own mobile core network combined with a state-of-art IT infrastructure and are using the radio networks of licensed mobile operators (MNOs).

At this moment we have radio network access agreements with Vodafone Netherlands and Vodafone United Kingdom and we are exploring radio network access agreements in other countries. We enable companies and brands to launch their own mobile services. We offer these 'MVNOs' (Mobile Virtual Network Operators) innovative mobile solutions such as mobile loyalty, multicounty SIM cards and fixed/mobile solution in prepaid, postpaid and hybrid propositions.

Currently we work with almost 50 people in two countries and operate 16 brands, including smart mobile brands like Telesur, UPC, DekaMarkt and hollandsnieuwe. We keep on expanding in customers and countries. The standard is high and we work hard with passion.

We have seen tremendous growth and for the further growth of our market and to support the building of our organization we are looking for a Software engineer for our Headquarters in Nieuwegein, The Netherlands.

About the job

In our IT Department we use a host of Microsoft Technologies with the latest WCF/SO and MVC Architecture and our solutions are programmed in ASP.NET and C# (web services) using Visual Studio 2008 and Team Foundation Server, with SQL Server 2008 as the database server and all database objects created using T-SQL.

Because of our exceptional growth we are looking for an experienced Software Engineer in .Net and SQL Server Technologies. You will join our I.T. team in our offices in Nieuwegein. We have a flat structure in the office with a friendly, relaxed, but professional environment with the opportunity to be involved in all technical aspects of the business. Our team is international and currently consists of Dutch, South African, Italian, Indian, Portuguese, Indonesian, Polish, and Swiss people so English is the common language that is used in the office.

This is an excellent long-term opportunity for a candidate to be involved in a constantly evolving dynamic organization operating in a sector that is continuously experiencing high growth
